ARABIAN NIGHTS

With so many different resort options in Hua Hin, it can be difficult to choose a place to stay for your weekend getaway. One of the most talked about resorts in the area is the Marrakesh Hua Hin Resort and Spa. It has become a hit with celebrities and the hi-so crowd, but what is it that makes this resort stand out?

A night in Morocco is a night unlike any other. The lighting and mood sets the tone for an amazing experience that Marrakesh Hua Hin Resort and Spa embraces through its Neo-Moroccan style. It is an updated, luxurious take on one of the world's coolest experiences.

The entire property embraces the Neo-Moroccan design concept giving it a distinct feel. The lobby is awe inspiring with its fountain and open space. The pool with a grassy lounge area looks out to the sea providing a lovely way to relax and enjoy a few drinks as day turns into night.

Marrakesh Hua Hin feels much like an oasis in the middle of the city's crowded beachfront. Its emphasis on seclusion and privacy allow guest to truly get away from it all. However, a convenient location allows you to be right back in the thick of the action with the Cicada Market and several golf courses among the many activities nearby.

Of course you may not even want to leave the resort. There are quite a few luxury resorts in Hua Hin but many of them lack personality. The services and facilities are great but there is nothing remarkable about them. Marrakesh Hua Hin, however, breaks the mold when it comes to luxury resorts.

From its pool and gym that are open 24-hours to the use of vibrant colour in each room, the place just feels different. The restaurant, bar and spa are all top-notch with each offering something unique and different.

Al Hamra

Al Hamra is Marrakesh Hua Hin's delightfully decorated restaurant. A versatile menu was created to ensure there is something for everyone on the menu. Al Hamra features some of the finest imported ingredients. Those looking for a traditional Moroccan flavour should check out the salmon oasis or the chicken tagine. Both dishes stay true to Moroccan cuisine.

Those feeling less adventurous will be impressed with some of the other menu items. The salmon pesto served with squid ink is simply amazing. It could possibly be the best in Thailand. Other choices include stir-fried noodles, several tempting pizzas and all the Thai favourites. The staff does a great job as well. Dining at Marrakesh Hua Hin is an experience not to be missed.

Al Janna Beach Bar

With drink names like Marrakesh Dream, Prince of Persia and Arabian Night, you can't help but feel the Middle Eastern influence when relaxing at the Al Janna Beach Bar. The garden lounge area, poolside beds and domed bar all help create a chilled vibe. The lighting and setup really makes the place pop at night and on weekends there is music and fire dancing.

The signature cocktails and mocktails run a bit on the sweet side so those looking for something a bit more buttoned down may want to take a look at the full menu to find a drink more to their liking. There is also a full range of fruit juices, smoothies and soft drinks available too.

Noora Spa

Noora Spa offers several signature treatments that can only be found at Marrakesh Hua Hin. The entire spa process is an experience to remember. You will be pampered from the minute you are greeted with tea until you leave the spa with its charming décor. Once you enjoy the VIP treatment you may never want to leave.

The signature radiant massage offered at Noora Spa will leave you glowing. A magic healing candle infused with beautiful fragrances and natural powder gold melt to create softness. It is an unmatched experience.

Mo-rocking

Marrakesh Hua Hin is not your ordinary luxury resort and spa. It offers all of the amenities you would expect to find at a 5-star resort with a worldly and modern setting. The rooms are big enough to hold an entire family and the pool and kid's area give the young ones plenty to do. The atmosphere also makes a great stop for couples or friends looking for a unique holiday destination.
